

Bio

Scott Case

Scott Case started working for his dad at Case & Associates Properties about 20 years ago. He would work during the summers as a groundskeeper or on small construction sites. After a couple of summers working as a groundskeeper, he realized at that point that college was a must (and that his dad wasn't going to promote him just because he was his son).

After graduating from high school, he began working part time in the corporate office, working in the accounting and auditing department, while attending college. After graduating college with a degree in Business Administration and a minor in Management, he began managing the commercial department at Case, where he got to know most of the people in this room. Since then his focus has shifted to the core business of Case & Associates, multi-family management, apartment construction and investing, where he currently acts as Property Supervisor for several local properties.

As time allows, he still enjoys dabbling in the commercial department. He holds IREM's designation of Certified Property Manager (CPM) and recently passed the Oklahoma Real Estate Broker exam...and only on the second try. His hobbies include running marathons, being involved in his church and spending time with his beautiful wife and two boys.
